MAUI IS TAKING STEPS TO BUILD CRATER STATION

Plans for the Haleakala Rest-
House are Rapidly Assuming Definite Shape

Active steps toward building a rest-house at the crater of Haleakala, Maui, are now being taken. The Star-Bulletin has received from W. O. Aiken, secretary of the committee appointed by the Maui Chamber of Commerce, the following minutes of a recent committee meeting:

The first meeting of the committee appointed by the president of the Maui Chamber of Commerce to have in charge the erection of the new Haleakala rest house was held at the First National Bank of Wailuku, in Wailuku, Maui, on Saturday October 17, 1914, with the full committee present to wit: C. D. Lufkin, chairman, W. H. Field, Hugh Howell, L. von Tempel, and W. O. Aiken.

W. O. Aiken was appointed secretary of the committee.

The general proposition and scope of the work of the committee was outlined by the chairman, Mr. Lufkin, and a general discussion indulged in.

"Size of house—It was unanimously decided that a house should be built of sufficient size to accommodate comfortably 20 people.

"Location of house—It was further unanimously voted that the new house should be located on the ledge of the mountain, just east and above the present horse stable, as near the edge of the crater as is practicable and safe.

"Plan of house—Tentative plans for the new house were presented by L. von Tempel and W. O. Aiken, and after considerable discussion, a plan was evolved from both of the above, as a basis to work on; and it was voted that estimates and specifications be secured from the Honolulu Iron Works covering the said plan. The virtues of stone, iron and hy-rib construction were considered and the committee favored the hy-rib as the best suited to the purpose.

"The tentative plan calls for a house 16 by 40 feet, with sleeping bunks, arranged like steamer berths in one-half of the house and the other devoted to the living and eating arrangements. The house to be fitted with long windows on both sides, and located so that one side looks direct towards the sunrise and into the crater and the other down the valley of Maui, towards the west Maui mountains; the house as near the crater as possible, so that the sunrise and the view can be observed from the interior of the house, without having to go out into the bitter cold that generally prevails.

"For heating purposes the committee favored both an air-tight steel stove and kerosene oil heaters. The long windows of the house, to be protected by iron shutters bolted inside when not in use, and that would swing down when the house was in use.

"Care-taker—It was the unanimous opinion of the committee that a care-taker should be maintained at the rest house if possible, and that applications for such position be invited.

"Ownership and responsibility—The committee was unanimous that the formal ownership of and the responsibility for the rest house should vest officially in the Maui Chamber of Commerce and that the said chamber should get behind the matter of a care-taker, and the proper upkeep of the house in a vigorous manner.

"It was voted that the public should be informed of what the committee was doing and that any and all suggestions would be gladly received.

"Meeting then adjourned, to be called together again as soon as possible after plans and estimates of the proposed house were received."

SUGAR CHEMISTS ELECT OFFICERS AND HOLD FEAST

Officers for the ensuing year were elected by the Hawaiian Sugar Chemists' Association at the close of its annual meeting yesterday, their names being H. P. Agee, president; G. Giacometti, vice president; S. S. Peck, secretary and treasurer, together with an executive committee consisting of J. A. Verret, H. Johnson, C. H. Halden, J. E. Biela, A. Fries and Robert S. Norris.

Among the most interesting discussions of the second day was that on sugar boiling, based on a report by Dr. Norris. It was brought out that there were three distinct methods in Hawaiian sugar factories, involving the retaining or rejection of waste molasses. Some factories never use the molasses, at least one does return it to process and another it four times.

Upon the chemists depends the problem of making the sugar pay when the price of the molasses is low, as an increase in degree of extraction of sucrose will in many cases mean profit where otherwise there would be loss.

The banquet at the Country club, the final event of the convention, was very jolly. In the vaudeville sketch "The Piffle Mill" some clever original songs were given.

Those taking part in the convention were: H. P. Agee, G. Giacometti, S. S. Peck, J. A. Verret, H. Johnson, C. H. Halden, J. E. Biela, A. Fries, R. S. Norris, Robert Kay, A. Grandthorne, W. F. von D. Duker, F. R. Wertheim, F. T. Dillingham, William McGeorge, E. C. Lane, George F. Renton, Jr., C. E. Wilson, T. W. Alston, H. T. Halden, A. Gattley, John Napier, Jr., F. J. Harrick, W. P. Naquin, C. Z. L. Schmidt, L. W. Howard, F. N. Peterson, L. D. Larson, J. J. Muller, A. Kraft, A. M. Smith, A. de Bretteville, P. Messchaert, E. T. Westly, J. H. Pratt, V. Marcellino, James Wakine, James P. Lino, H. E. Starratt, A. M. Schmidt, Y. Kutsunai, D. F. Nicholson, C. L. W. Watson, William Barnhart, C. C. James, A. E. Jordan, A. C. Warber, H. D. Beveridge, H. S. Walker, R. Longlier and H. E. Savage.

Mrs. Wheeler, who, not long ago, was head nurse at Queen's Hospital, is to begin work in "first aid" at the Homefind this evening. Although the "cases" may not be serious, real experience will be gained, nevertheless. A good deal of interest is being manifested in this class.

SPIRIT OF HAWAII MAY GET "TRY-OUT" ON THE ORPHEUM TIME SHORTLY

"The Spirit of Hawaii," recently produced at the Royal Hawaiian Opera House, has been entirely rewritten by E. A. Douthitt and plans are now under way to remodel the scenery and make a number of additions to the stage effect. A drop-curtain, depicting the outside of the volcano, will be added. E. J. this means the two "dark scenes" that proved a detriment to the original production will be entirely eliminated. The part of the "butler" also has been eliminated, thereby allowing for the strengthening of the part played by the "Goddess" and the "Kahuna." A Hawaiian singing quartet will be an added feature of the production and the music throughout the sketch will be distinctively Hawaiian. Ernest Kaal is at present preparing the songs and music.

It is stated that Morris Meyerfeld, Jr., manager of the San Francisco Orpheum, has written to a local friend concerning the sketch, who is based at San Francisco—Portland 8, San Francisco 2.
